Announcer Clobbered by Stranger

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Radio announcer Bill Dietz, host for a listener participation program broadcast over KARK here, was in the announcer's booth Tuesday when a man walked in and said, "Is this radio?"

"Yes," Dietz said, and the man hit him.

"I said, 'What's the matter with you man?' Then he said, 'I have you know my mother is alive.'"

The man hit him again, walked calmly out of the station and drove off in a pickup truck.

Dietz said he had no idea what it was all about. Police are looking for his assailant.

second largest city, and seven provincial capitals in the central and northern parts of the country. Fighting continued through the night in some of the towns.

Today the Communists carried their campaign to Saigon and into the Mekong Delta to the south.

Late this afternoon fighting was still raging in streets of Saigon and inside the capital's sprawling air base, where at least 100 Viet Cong troops infiltrated.

The fighting closed the airport, one of the busiest in the world, to all commercial flights.

Viet Cong guerrillas used plastic explosives to blast through the outer wall around the $2.6 million embassy building, opened last November and designed to be virtually terror-proof, about 3 a.m.

Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker was at his residence five blocks away.

A wounded guerrilla reached the second floor of the quarters of U.S. Mission coordinator George Jacobson, 56, who lives on the embassy grounds. Jacobson killed him with a pistol thrown up to his window by a soldier who wounded the guerrilla downstairs.

Nineteen guerrillas were found dead when the embassy was declared secure at 9:30 a.m. One prisoner was taken away and another wounded one was carried out. U.S. officials said five American soldiers were killed and 11 wounded and two Vietnamese embassy drivers were killed in the fight for the embassy.

No casualties were reported among paratroopers of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division who landed by helicopter on the roof of the six-story embassy and raced down through the building to help finish off the Viet Cong squad.

There were conflicting reports as to whether the invaders got inside the embassy building. A U.S. captain said some penetrated the first floor. A major overruled him, saying they did not. Westmoreland said they didn't. Vietnamese police said they did.

Bullets knocked the Great Seal of the United States off the wall above the entrance. Anti-tank rockets tore four holes in the facing of the building. It replaced one wrecked in March 1965 by terrorist bombs that killed 22 persons.

U.S. GOLD from Page One nation's gold supply had dropped to $12.1 billion, the board reported, while total U.S. 1967 totaled $160.4 million, down $608 million from November.

Along with gold, total reserves include convertible foreign currencies held by this country plus its reserve position in the International Monetary Fund.

Domestic gold sales during reserves reached $14.8 billion, Treasury officials said, leaving a net loss of just over $1 billion in sales to foreign governments and to fill U.S. commitments to the London gold market.

Attorney Dies During Murder Trial

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — T. E. Martin, 40, of Morrilton, died of an apparent heart attack Tuesday after vigorously cross-examining the state's star witness in the first-degree murder trial of Billy Gross, 30.

Martin, a court-appointed lawyer for Gross, had just finished questioning Mrs. R. E. Combs. He returned to his table and seated himself next to his client, then slumped over.

Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation administered by Mrs. Combs and State Police Sgt. W. A. Turod on Martin failed, and he was pronounced dead at a Conway hospital.

Circuit Judge Russell Roberts declared a mistrial for Gross, who is accused of murdering Frank Birch in 1963. He was convicted in a previous trial, but federal Judge J. Smith Henley reversed his life term and ordered him either released or retried by March 1.

Prosecutor Jeff Mobley of Russellville said he would petition federal court for additional time for the retrial.

important points when American troops were not expecting enemy attack.

The U.S. Command has been building up troop strength to protect against any massive North Vietnamese drive in South Vietnam's northernmost area.

Sources said combined U.S. and South Vietnamese manpower there now totals as high as 68,000.

Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese reportedly have positioned four and possibly five regular divisions totaling 40,000 or so soldiers in the DMZ near Khe Sanh.

Pentagon sources said that when he was here in late November, Gen. William C. Westmoreland forecast that Viet Cong harassments would increase 100-fold as soon as U.S. reinforcements moved up to the DMZ area.

However, events in South Vietnam have tended to run against the grain of publically expressed optimism by the U.S. commander in Vietnam during his Washington visit. At that time, Westmoreland challenged a reporter's suggestion that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were maintaining the initiative.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS, with a hungry hour to feed each Tuesday night with a news or public affairs program, tapped an unusual and rewarding source when it devoted this week's time to a report on the reopening of Ford's Theater in Washington.

The old building has served as everything from storage space to government offices during the "fivescore and three years" since it was the scene of the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln as he sat watching a comedy, "Our American Cousin."

Ford's has been restored to its mid-19th century form and decor as a small theater. The opening, which CBS filmed on Jan. 19, was pretty much an all-star occasion, both on the small stage and in the audience.

The entertainment for the blacktie audience was rich in variety, ranging from modern dance to Civil War folk music.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey opened the inaugural program, and then such luminaries of the stage as Helen Hayes, Henry Fonda and Fredric March took over.

They told stories illustrating Lincoln wit. They recalled his great love for the theater, particularly for Shakespeare and for opera. Nina Foch read a scene from a favorite Shakespearean play. Harry Belafonte and Andy Williams sang. They were accompanied by the U.S. Marine Corps band.

All through the hour the camera kept returning to the empty, flag-draped box where on April 14, 1865, Lincoln was shot and from which John Wilkes Booth leaped onto the stage 10 feet below and escaped, to be captured a short time later.

The mood of the program—rather somber for all the references to Lincoln's humor—was such that some of the modern trappings of show business seemed wildly out of place,

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

The Hope Duplicate Bridge Club had 5 tables of players at the meeting Monday, January 29, at the Diamond. Luther Hollamon and Dr. George Wright were the first place scorers. Mrs. R. T. White and Mrs. Emmett Thompson were second, and Mrs. Comer Boyett and R. L. Broach, third.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. James Michael Willis of Shreveport became the parents of their first child, a son on Sunday, January 28. He weighed 7 pounds, 13 ounces and has been named James Michael, Jr. Grandparents, all of Shreveport, are Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle Willis and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Laird. Mrs. Jett Williams of Hope is the great-grandmother.

Coming, Going

Mrs. Thomas Crosnoe, Mission Hill, Calif., is visiting in the home of F. E. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Thomas, St. Louis, spent last weekend with their mothers, Mrs. Emma Thomas and Mrs. Clifford Messer.

Mrs. Herbert Lewallen visited Sunday in Texarkana with Mrs. Ida Ellis and family.

Mrs. A. K. Holloway spent last week in Texarkana with the Mitchell Williams family.

Improvised Bathtub

There is no excuse whatever to be dirty even when good wash up facilities are lacking. An enterprising Marine has found a way to scrub up all over with less than a quart of water using an empty juice can as an improvised bathtub.

Sea Otter in Comeback on Fur Market

By BETTY HOPPER

Associated Press Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — A flick of the finger marked the return of the glamorous sea otter fur to fashion houses Tuesday with a record bid of $2,300 a skin.

The top price at the first legal sale of sea otter pelts since 1911 was paid by George Liebes, vice president of Neiman-Marcus of Dallas, Tex., for four skins. They will be made into a lady's coat which Liebes will design.

The $2,300 was called a record by Michael Dederer, president of the Seattle Fur Exchange, which handled the auction of 904 skins for the state of Alaska.

More than 100 international fur brokers representing the major furriers of the world attended the sale. The first lot went to Zalmon Porter of Minot, N.D., who paid $2,150 each for four pelts. The average for a single skin was $170.

Valued for its velvet softness, warmth and durability, the long, nearly black pelts, sometimes edged in silver, were made into capes for the mandarins of China and Russia's czars. International competition in Alaska and along the West Coast of the United States brought the herds to the edge of extinction a century ago.

The last big auction of sea otter fur was held in London in 1911. That also was the year he and served with the Navy for four years. He is employed with the Coca Cola Company of Hope, N.C.

Vows will be exchanged on March 1 at 7 p.m. in the First Assembly of God Church of Curdon.

There was Miss Hayes trailing a wire that connected a concealed microphone. Belafonte and Williams clutched anachronistic hand microphones as they sang, and there were standing microphones around the stage. Ford's Theater, apparently, leaves something to be desired acoustically.

NBC, incidentally, will do something rather like that on Feb. 12 when it broadcasts an hour program culled from taping the opening of New York City's new Madison Square Garden the night before. The program will be a Bob Hope hour since he stars in the show, with plenty of help from Bing Crosby and Pearl Bailey.

Recommended tonight: "Elizabeth the Queen," NBC, 7:30-9 EST, Dame Judith Anderson as Elizabeth and Charlton Heston as Essex.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

TIME TO LIVE HER OWN LIFE

Dear Helen: I have been divorced for 12 years, am in my middle 30's, with two children. All these years I have worked hard to support us, and am well-respected in the community. My mother lives downstairs. I pay her rent. For as long as I can remember, she has made life miserable for me, but she is so domineering that I have never broken away. When I tried, she'd scream, "After all I've done for you..." and make it look like I was turning my poor old mother out in the snow. She is stronger and healthier than I am, well able to work, and, besides, she has a pension.

During my teen years I never had friends—to her they were all "bums," and I couldn't keep them. My marriage was an escape. She's never stopped saying, "I told you so." She says all men are brutes, sadists, spongers and worthless. For a time, I believed her and buckled under. It was easier than fighting, and I was busy being the breadwinner.

but now, finally, I've met a MAN. For the first time in my life I'm thinking straight. I don't know whether he wants marriage or not, and I don't care. He's made me see that I'm important, and that my children need to get away, before they are warped like I was.

How does my mother react to this widower? She calls him every vile name in the book, spreads rumors about him in the neighborhood, tries to turn my son and daughter against him—but they are all on his side.

Well, I've found an apartment and we're moving out. It will be a complete break, for my mother will spread it all over town what a rat I am. Sometimes her haranguing makes me weaken: It's hard to break the pattern when you've been dominated for so long. Just writing this has helped. Please help further and tell me I'm right.—STILL AFRAID TO CUT THE CHAINS.

Dear Chain-Cutter: Of course you're right. You've been wrong only in waiting half your life to make the break. Those who know the situation will agree, and others may too, in spite of your mother's static—more likely because of it.

Don't weaken!—H.

Dear Helen: It may have sounded farfetched—the man who spent years getting even with his wife because of one small mistake she made before marriage. But it happens.

My husband has started slaying out until 5 a.m. He said he was with the felias, but I happened to pick up the extension phone and heard him talking about a "hot number", and he didn't mean on the juke box. Next day a girl called him. He told me she just wanted him to take her home from work, but finally he admitted he'd been out with several girls. He said it was to pay me back. You see, we had to get married, and, though he hasn't any proof, he now says that I probably was promiscuous with others, too. He says that now we are even, we can start over as if nothing happened. He's satisfied. But he still stayed out 'till 3 a.m. last night. What can I believe?—H.L.T.

Dear H: One thing you can't believe is—your husband! Tell him you'll accept his phony excuse, but only if he stays home where he belongs.—H.

Dear Helen: How come my wife rants and raves when the price of sugar goes up ten cents, yet she figures she got a bargain when she pays $49.95 for a dress that couldn't have more than a yard of material in it?—CAN'T UNDERSTAND 'EM

Dear Can't: For the same reason you figure $3,800 is about right for a car, yet you scream and holler when the price of gas goes up three cents a pump.—H

Blue Devils Upset by S. Carolina

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I'd just like to end the season now," said Frank McGuire with a grin.

The coach of the University of South Carolina basketball team was in a jovial mood after his Gamecocks had upset the nationally ranked Duke Blue Devils 83-80 at Columbia, S.C., Tuesday night.

Skip Harlicka, with 23 points, and Jack Thompson, with 21, combined for 44 points to pace the Gamecocks over the Blue Devils for their fifth straight victory. Six points between them from the foul line kept the Gamecocks ahead in the closing minutes and thwarted a late Duke rally.

Mike Lewis threw in 33 points for the ninth-ranked Blue Devils, the only team in The Associated Press college basketball Top Ten to see action.

"We beat a great team," McGuire said. "Our kids never lost their poise and played great basketball all the way." He added emphatically, "I don't want to play any more." South Carolina now has an 8-3 record.

Wisconsin kept in contention for the Big Ten title by beating Minnesota 72-62 at Minneapolis. Rice, the surprise team in the Southwest Conference, was not so fortunate on the road. The Owls took a 70-52 thumping from Baylor.

In another SWC game, Arkansas scored at home over Texas Christian 68-67 on James Eldridge's free throw in the last 10 seconds.

Bob Portman poured in 42 points to pace Creighton over LaSalle 77-71 at Omaha. Lloyd Kerr popped in the winning basket in the last two seconds as Colorado State U. won on the road over Denver 71-70.

Sophomore Don Curnutt scored 25 points to lead Miami Fla., over Maryland 93-73 at Miami Beach.

Phil Wagner returned after a five-game absence scored 18 points to help Georgia Tech down Virginia Military 99-70 at Atlanta. Wagner now has 1,010 points, the ninth Georgia Tech player to crack the 1,000-point level.

In other games, Michigan State whipped Notre Dame 89-86, Idaho downed Idaho State 72-64, Western Michigan edged Northern Illinois 75-74 on four free throws by Eugene Ford in the last 20 seconds, Chicago Loyola walloped Ohio University 109-62 and Holy Cross took Boston University 71-66 behind Ed Sludut's 38 points.

George Washington won its first Southern Conference game in nearly a year by defeating William and Mary 80-76. GW's last previous conference victory was on Feb. 11, 1967 against VMI.

Pipers Keep Pressure on Minnesota

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Pipers are keeping the pressure on the Minnesota Muskies.

The Pipers, after chasing the Muskies for the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division lead for weeks, finally caught them last weekend and, with a 121-112 victory Tuesday night, moved ahead by 1½ games.

The Pipers took a 64-44 lead over the Muskies late in the first half and never trailed after that. Charlie Williams led the Pittsburgh scorers with 28 points, with Connie Hawkins adding 25 and Art Heyman 24.

In other ABA games, New Orleans beat Kentucky 112-101 and Denver downed Oakland 137-113.

In the NBA, Cincinnati beat Detroit 121-101, Baltimore topped New York 134-131, Philadelphia took Boston 125-118, San Francisco downed Chicago 123-119 and Seattle whipped Los Angeles 128-116.

Les Hunter led the scoring for the losing Muskies with 31 points. Don Freeman added 29. New Orleans leads the Western Division by two games. Doug Moe paced the Buccaneers' scorers with 31 points while Louis Dampier had 31 for Kentucky. Wayne Hightower collected 15

Ready to tackle the problems at hand, the Hope Bobcats are presently consumed in a week of inventory, with a good hard look due to be taken at the things the squad can do best.

The Bobcats are presently 2-4 in 4-A action, and if things don't start looking up it might be a long February. Anyway, the main reason Hope is off in conference play is that they have been unable to do what they can do best, fast break.

In the final two games before the Christmas holidays, the Bobcat fast break had reached its peak of effectiveness. On consecutive evenings the Cats demolished Ashdown 72-57 and Prescott 74-51. At that point the Hope defense was coming along, but that fast breaking was murder to opposing team.

With that main ingredient, which Hope teams have used successfully employed with championship years in the past, this edition of the Bobcats determinedly hit the conference trail. Up to now it's been rather sour, and one main reason is that the fast break which had been going so well suddenly is gone.

Therefore, Hope has had to work for the good shot, and fewer came in the Arkadelphia game than even pessimists would have predicted. But the Bobcats have a big asset on their side: desire and determination with a winning spirit.

So now the real test comes, and it probably will mean a few changes in the Bobcats' attack. This Friday evening the rough Fairview Cardinals fly into town remembering last year's 51-50 double overtime loss to the Bobcats at Jones Field House. Then on Saturday night the Bobcats go to meet the Malvern Leopards in Malvern.

To change the subject, the brackets for the District 7-A West Senior Girls championship have been released. The tourney, to be held in Prescott on the week of the 12th of February, will have a sure bet for the finals in Hope and Ashdown.

Our Lady Cats have been placed in the top-seeded position, but to count out the Ashdown Pantherettes would be a mortal sin. There were two byes in the eight-team bracket, and Hope and Ashdown were the two. Each meets the winner of contests between the other teams, all of whom are experiencing sub-par years.

The only shame is that only one team can go to the state meet a week later (we should say "re-main"), because district and state both will be held in Prescott. Should the Lady Cats win it, a very fine Ashdown team will have to hang up their suits. But if the Pantherettes were to beat Hope in the finals, it would be some tear-soaked uniforms that would go into the washing machine.

Meanwhile, Coach Charlotte Gibson continues daily afternoon workouts with the squad in the Guernsey gym. The Lady Cats have practiced there since the first of the year, because the two boys teams take up the HHS campus' two courts in the afternoons. Anyway, the facilities at Guernsey have new glass backboards and a newly waxed floor, so what else could one want?

Doorway to Fame

The Olympic games have often proved to be a stepping stone to fame and fortune for the winners. Here are some stars who brightened past Olympics as spectacular athletes. This year's Winter Olympics are scheduled for Feb. 6 at Grenoble, France.

Jim Thorpe reached great glory at 1912 Olympics in Stockholm. Thorpe, an American Indian, was told by Sweden's King Gustav, "Sir, you are the greatest athlete in the world."

It's the 1960 Rome Olympics and Cassius Clay, right, jolts Russia's Shatkov. Clay won a gold medal, turned pro and became the youngest heavyweight champion in boxing history.

Hope Tied for Third in District

There were no changes in the standings in Div. 4AA East but a couple of changes did occur in 4AA West following games of this past weekend. Smackover (6-0) continues to hold a game lead over Crossett (5-0) in the East, while the Fairview Cardinals moved into a tie with Texarkana (Washington) by defeating the Lions on Saturday night. Both have 4-2 marks for the West standings.

Arkadelphia and Malvern, of the West, both posted their first conference wins of the season this past week. Now every team in both sections has recorded a victory. Crossett leads the team scoring average for the East with a 69.0 scoring average while Smackover leads the defensive average with a yield of 39.4. Fairview leads the West both in scoring, with a 59.5 per game avg., and defense with a 44.8 yield. Texarkana has a 56.3 avg. offensive and a 52.5 avg. defense.

Results last week: Crossett 72 Camden 50; Lincoln 51 Hope 40; Magnolia 54 El Dorado 39; Fairview 61 Arkadelphia 43; Fairview 65 Texarkana 43; Malvern 45 Lincoln 44; Arkadelphia 42 Hope 30; Texarkana 56 Malvern 51; Warren 61 Magnolia 52; Smackover 60 El Dorado 33; Smackover 63 Camden 40; Crossett 67 Warren 52.

Hal Greer and Wally Jones combined for Philadelphia to overcome a 38-point showing by Boston's Sam Jones.

Wally Jones hit 18 of his 24 points in the first half as Philadelphia took a 63-61 lead at intermission before Greer took over.

After Sam Jones had put Boston ahead 86-84 in the third quarter, Greer shot Philadelphia ahead to stay.

The lead grew to 11 and when Boston cut it to 109-106 with 4:36 left, Greer snared four quick points, wrapping it up, Greer finished with 37 points.

Oscar Robertson scored 19 of his 35 points in the second half as Cincinnati turned a 49-43 halftime deficit into an easy victory with 73 points in the final half. Dave Bing had 34 for Detroit.

Pros, Stars Team in Bob Hope Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The pros and the stars teamed up for the 2nd straight week as the Bob Hope Desert Classic got under way today for its annual splash in major league golf competition.

In an event which has raised several hundred thousand dollars for charitable causes, the purse amounts to $122,000.

On hand in a try for a third trip to the winner's circle is Arnold Palmer, the only golfer to win it twice—in the inaugural year, 1960, and in 1962.

Billy Casper, the winner of the Los Angeles Open last Sunday and the Hope champion in 1965, is back for another shot at the $20,000 top money.

Also present is the defending champion, a club professional from Long Island, N.Y., Tom Nieporte. His name is not famous but his upset triumph a year ago stands as one of the sentimental best of pro golf's annals.

Nieporte is 38 years old and he can't spend too much time away from his club members nor his brood of eight youngsters.

The eighth was on the way last winter when Nieporte's final round and total score of 349 was good enough to stave off a belated bid by Doug Sanders, the 1966 Hope winner.

A total of 136 professionals compete for the first 72 holes of the 90-hole marathon with 408 amateurs—a different amateur threesome each day.

The pros take it on alone for Sunday's fifth and final round. The pro-am purse is worth $22,000 the main event $100,000.

Most of the big name pros and partners, who include the greats of show business, played La Quinta Country Club's par 36, 36-72 in the first round. La Quinta, Indian Wells, El Dorado and Bermuda Dunes are the courses employed.

final show came after New York had overcome a 78-60 deficit. San Francisco ended a four-game losing streak and extended Chicago's to five as Fred Hetzel scored five points after the Bulls pulled within 118-114, Rudy LaRusso and Fred Mullins each had 30 points for the Warriors.

Seattle withstood a third-quarter Los Angeles rally that closed a 73-59 deficit to one point, but Walt Hazzard brought the SuperSonics back with 15 of his 31 points.

Grid Draft Takes 128 in First Round

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There were 12 rounds to go and some tantalizing names still available as professional football resumed drafting the nation's top collegiate players today.

The pros went through five rounds in 11 hours, 43 minutes Monday—just one minute less than it took them a year ago. There were 138 players drafted and many more conspicuous by their absence.

Still available were quarterbacks Kim Hammond of Florida State and Dewey Warren of Tennessee; linebacker Granville Liggins of Oklahoma; defensive tackle Greg Pipes of Baylor; defensive backs Tom Schoen of Notre Dame and Frank Loria of VPI and guards Gary Cassells of Indiana and Rich Stotter of Houston, among others.

All except Warren were first or second team All-Americans. It was obviously the Year of the Lineman for the 25 pro teams. They picked seven linemen in the first round before Miami chose Syracuse fullback Larry Csonka to break the spell.

The top choice was Ron Yary, Southern California's powerful tackle, who was snatched up by the Minnesota Vikings. The Vikings were exercising the No. 1 choice acquired from the New York Giants in the trade for Fran Tarkenton last year.

After Yary was selected, Cincinnati, the American League's newest team, made its maiden choice Bob Johnson, Tennessee's highly regarded center.

Then Atlanta took Claude Hui, a defensive end from Tennessee A&I State, and San Diego, using a pick acquired from Denver, chose Russ Washington, a Missouri tackle.

Green Bay, using New Orleans' choice, took Fred Carr, a linebacker from Texas-El Paso and Boston picked Dennis Byrd, North Carolina State defensive tackle, New Orleans, utilizing Minnesota's regular first-round choice, took Kevin Hardy, Notre Dame's defensive end.

Then Miami chose Csonka, ending the run of linemen. Yary was one of five Southern

Hogs Knock TCU Out of First Place

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas out-shot and out-rebounded Texas Christian Tuesday night as it defeated the Horned Frogs 68-67 and knocked them out of a first place tie with Rice and Baylor. James Eldridge dropped in a free throw with 10 seconds left to give the Razorbacks the victory.

The Porkers hit 45 per cent of their shots from the field, compared to 41 per cent for TCU. They grabbed off 47 rebounds, five more than went to TCU.

Arkansas led throughout the first half and was leading 33-29 at intermission. The largest lead by the Razorbacks was 27-14 with 7:13 left in the half, after Benton Cone hit a long jumper.

James Cash, TCU's 6-foot-6 hookshot artist, cut down the margin and kept the Frogs' close the rest of the way. With 19 seconds left in the game, he was fouled by Eldridge and hit his free throw, which gave TCU its fourth tie of the evening.

Cash then fouled Eldridge, who picked up the winning point.

California stars chosen in the first round. The others were tackle Mike Taylor picked by Pittsburgh; Tim Rossovich, a defensive end chosen by Philadelphia; Mike Hull, a running back selected by Chicago and Earl McCullough, an end chosen by Detroit.

The glamour name of collegiate football—quarterback Gary Beban of UCLA—was bypassed in the opening round and finally selected in the second round by the Los Angeles Rams. He was the 30th player picked, surprisingly low for a Heisman Trophy winner.

Two quarterbacks were picked ahead of Beban in the first round. They were Greg Landry of Massachusetts, selected by Detroit, and Eldridge Dickey of Tennessee A&I State, picked by Oakland.

Other first-round choices were:

Haven Moses, San Diego State end, selected by Buffalo; Jim Smith, Oregon defensive back, picked by Washington; MacArthur Lane, Utah State running back picked by St. Louis.

Forrest Blue, Auburn center picked by San Francisco; Lee White Weber State running back, picked by the New York Jets; James Hill, Texas A&I defensive back, picked by San Diego.

Maurice Moorman, Texas A&M guard picked by Kansas City; Dennis Homan, Alabama end, picked by Dallas; Marvin Upshaw, Trinity, Tex. defensive end, picked by Cleveland;

George Daney, Texas-El Paso guard, picked by Kansas City;

John Williams, Minnesota tackle, picked by Baltimore; Bill Lueck, Arizona guard, picked by Green Bay; and Doug Crusan, Indiana tackle picked by Miami.

The teams used 3 hours, 35 minutes to complete the first round and 4:10 to finish the second, using most of the 15 minutes allowed between picks. The 7:45 for two rounds was somewhat faster than the 8:09 used last year.

There was a five-minute limit between picks in each round after the first two. That deadline remained in effect today and was expected to speed the final 12 rounds along.

U.S. Could End Track, Field Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — The long and often verbally explosive feud over control of amateur athletics could end Thursday when a federal arbitration board issues a report on its two years of mediation.

The report will be submitted to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who appointed the board in December 1965, by Theodore Kheel of New York, committee chairman.

A news conference will be held Thursday at 3 p.m., EST, in the Capitol.

The battle for control of amateur athletics in the United States has been raging for several years and the latest episodes in the feud could endanger the country's Olympic team.

The AAU fired the latest round two weeks ago in its battle with the NCAA. The AAU's target was the Feb. 9 track meet in New York run by the U.S. Track and Field Federation, an arm of the NCAA.

The meet, called the Madison Square Garden Invitational, will feature mostly college stars. But several of those scheduled to run are no longer eligible for college competition, though they are still in school.

The AAU maintains it must sanction any meet in which non-collegians participate. The federation has refused to ask for such a sanction.

Col. Dixon Hull, executive director of the AAU, says any athlete competing in the meet will be reported to the International Amateur Athletic Federation, which in turn will suspend his eligibility for International events such as the Olympics in Mexico City this summer.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The year was 1942. The Boxing Writers Association was holding its annual banquet in New York. Bon vivant James J. Walker, former New York mayor, gave the speech honoring the fighter of the year.

It was a delicate encomium, as only Jimmy Walker could deliver, and he ended with: "Joe Louis, you laid a rose on Abraham Lincoln's grave."

Recently, the Boxing Writers Association again honored Louis. This time he received the James J. Walker Award for "long and meritorious service" to boxing.

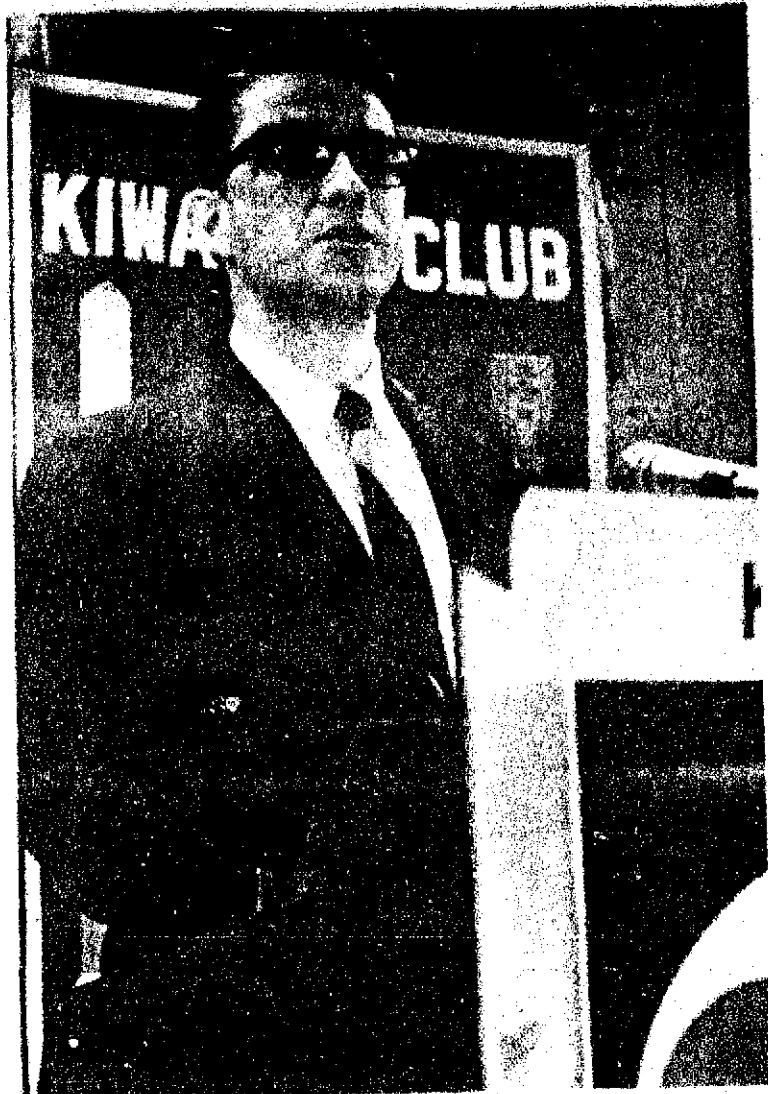

On the dais, Louis, now 53, rose to accept. The applause in the packed, plush, chandeliered hall in the Waldorf-Astoria was enthusiastic and respectful and moving.

Louis, hair receding, jowly face expressionless, specks of lint on his somewhat wrinkled tuxedo, ambled with the same lunched-over shuffle that millions came to recognize from 1937 to 1949 when he held the heavyweight title and defended a record 25 times.

He slowly extended his large right hand ("His hands were so fast," so the folk tale has come down, "that he could snatch flies in mid-air") and shook with the toastmaster, then received the plaque. He prepared to speak.

Louis has never been a man to polish a metaphor, turn a phrase, spin a clever tale. He never got past the fifth grade in Detroit's "Black Bottom" ghetto, where he had moved with his family from a ramshackle cabin in a cotton field in Alabama. But his uncommon gift of prize fighting made him a great champion and his candor, insight and in-

JAMES HALTOM

James Haltom, Attorney, and President of the Texarkana Oaklawn Kiwanis Club, spoke to the Hope Kiwanis Club at its luncheon meeting, Tuesday, at the Town and Country Restaurant.

Mr. Haltom spoke on the 1968 Kiwanis International theme for 1968, "We build by getting personally involved." In his remarks, Mr. Haltom developed the thought that we in this country today enjoy our many freedoms and benefits because someone years ago became "personally involved" in the affairs of this country and that as citizens of 1968 we, too, should become personally involved to preserve those benefits. Among the guests of the Hope Club was Royce Weisenberger, Jr. of Texarkana.

Need Work on New Nuclear Warheads

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States disclosed today much work remains to be done on its newest nuclear missile warheads.

But officials voiced confidence that "real, reliable hardware" would be ready for production when newly expanded plants are opened to handle the work.

Word that further, non-nuclear development work remains to be done on the warheads came out only two days after the Atomic Energy Commission revealed plans for a major new expansion of eight of its weapons production plants.

In the earlier disclosure, the AEC said the expansion was designed to produce nuclear warheads for the Sentinel antiballistic missile system ticketed for defense against any Red Chinese nuclear threat. Other advanced weapons systems, including the submarine-launched Poseidon and the land-based Minuteman 3, also will be produced in the expanded plants.

The word that these missiles are not ready came out after a honesty: "It beats stealing."

Currently, he is an administrative assistant to National Maritime Union president Joe Curran, and has helped draw labor into sponsoring boxing programs. And whenever important bouts are being fought, Louis is there.

Now, before a hushed hall in the Waldorf-Astoria, Louis, haltingly accepted the plaque: "Thank you for voting me this James J. Walker Award. I think it is a great thing. I remember when he said that I laid a rose on Lincoln's grave. I didn't know what he meant then. But I knew he was trying to make me feel good. I thought about it later on, and I understood what it was about."

"I want to thank y'all for coming tonight. I'm very proud of this trophy and I'll take it home with me. That's all I can say."

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset reporter asked the AEC for amplification of a terse reference in the commission's annual report today to Congress, declaring:

"A major effort (in weapons development) is being devoted to the development of new nuclear warheads required by the Department of Defense."

One AEC weapons official said prototypes of all the newest missiles "have been tested nuclearly, and we are sure of the concepts, but details of design" remain to produce "real, reliable hardware capable of being readily used by the armed forces."

Expansion of the weapons production plants is expected to be completed by late 1971.

The official did not say whether some production might be possible in some plants prior to 1971.

But he said, in answer to questions, it's conceivable further improvements could be made in the missiles in the meantime.

Ironically, word of the big thrust to perfect and produce the missiles came in a report in which the AEC said the dominating highlight of the nation's atomic energy program in 1967 concerned the peaceful uses of the atom.

The commission said this was "the surge toward greater use of nuclear power to meet the nation's electricity needs of the future . . ."

Locked in House Since 1936

SAN FERNANDO, Spain (AP) — Juan Rodriguez Aragon, 67, who locked himself up in his house when the Spanish civil war started July 18, 1936, surrendered to the authorities Tuesday, the Spanish news agency Citra reported.

Aragon, a carpenter when hostilities began, told officials he was afraid that political articles he used to write in a local magazine might bring reprisals. Citra said his family used to tell friends Juan had disappeared. Authorities indicated he would be questioned and then released since there were no charges against him.

Says Skirts to Remain Short

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The midl and the maxi will lose out to the mini, says designer Rudi Gernreich.

The man whose mod styles included the topless swimsuit pooch-pooched the trend toward lowering skirts below the knee.

"I really believe that skirts are going to remain short," said Gernreich who was in Los Angeles Tuesday to present a retrospective show of his designs. He called the miniskirt "part of our time."

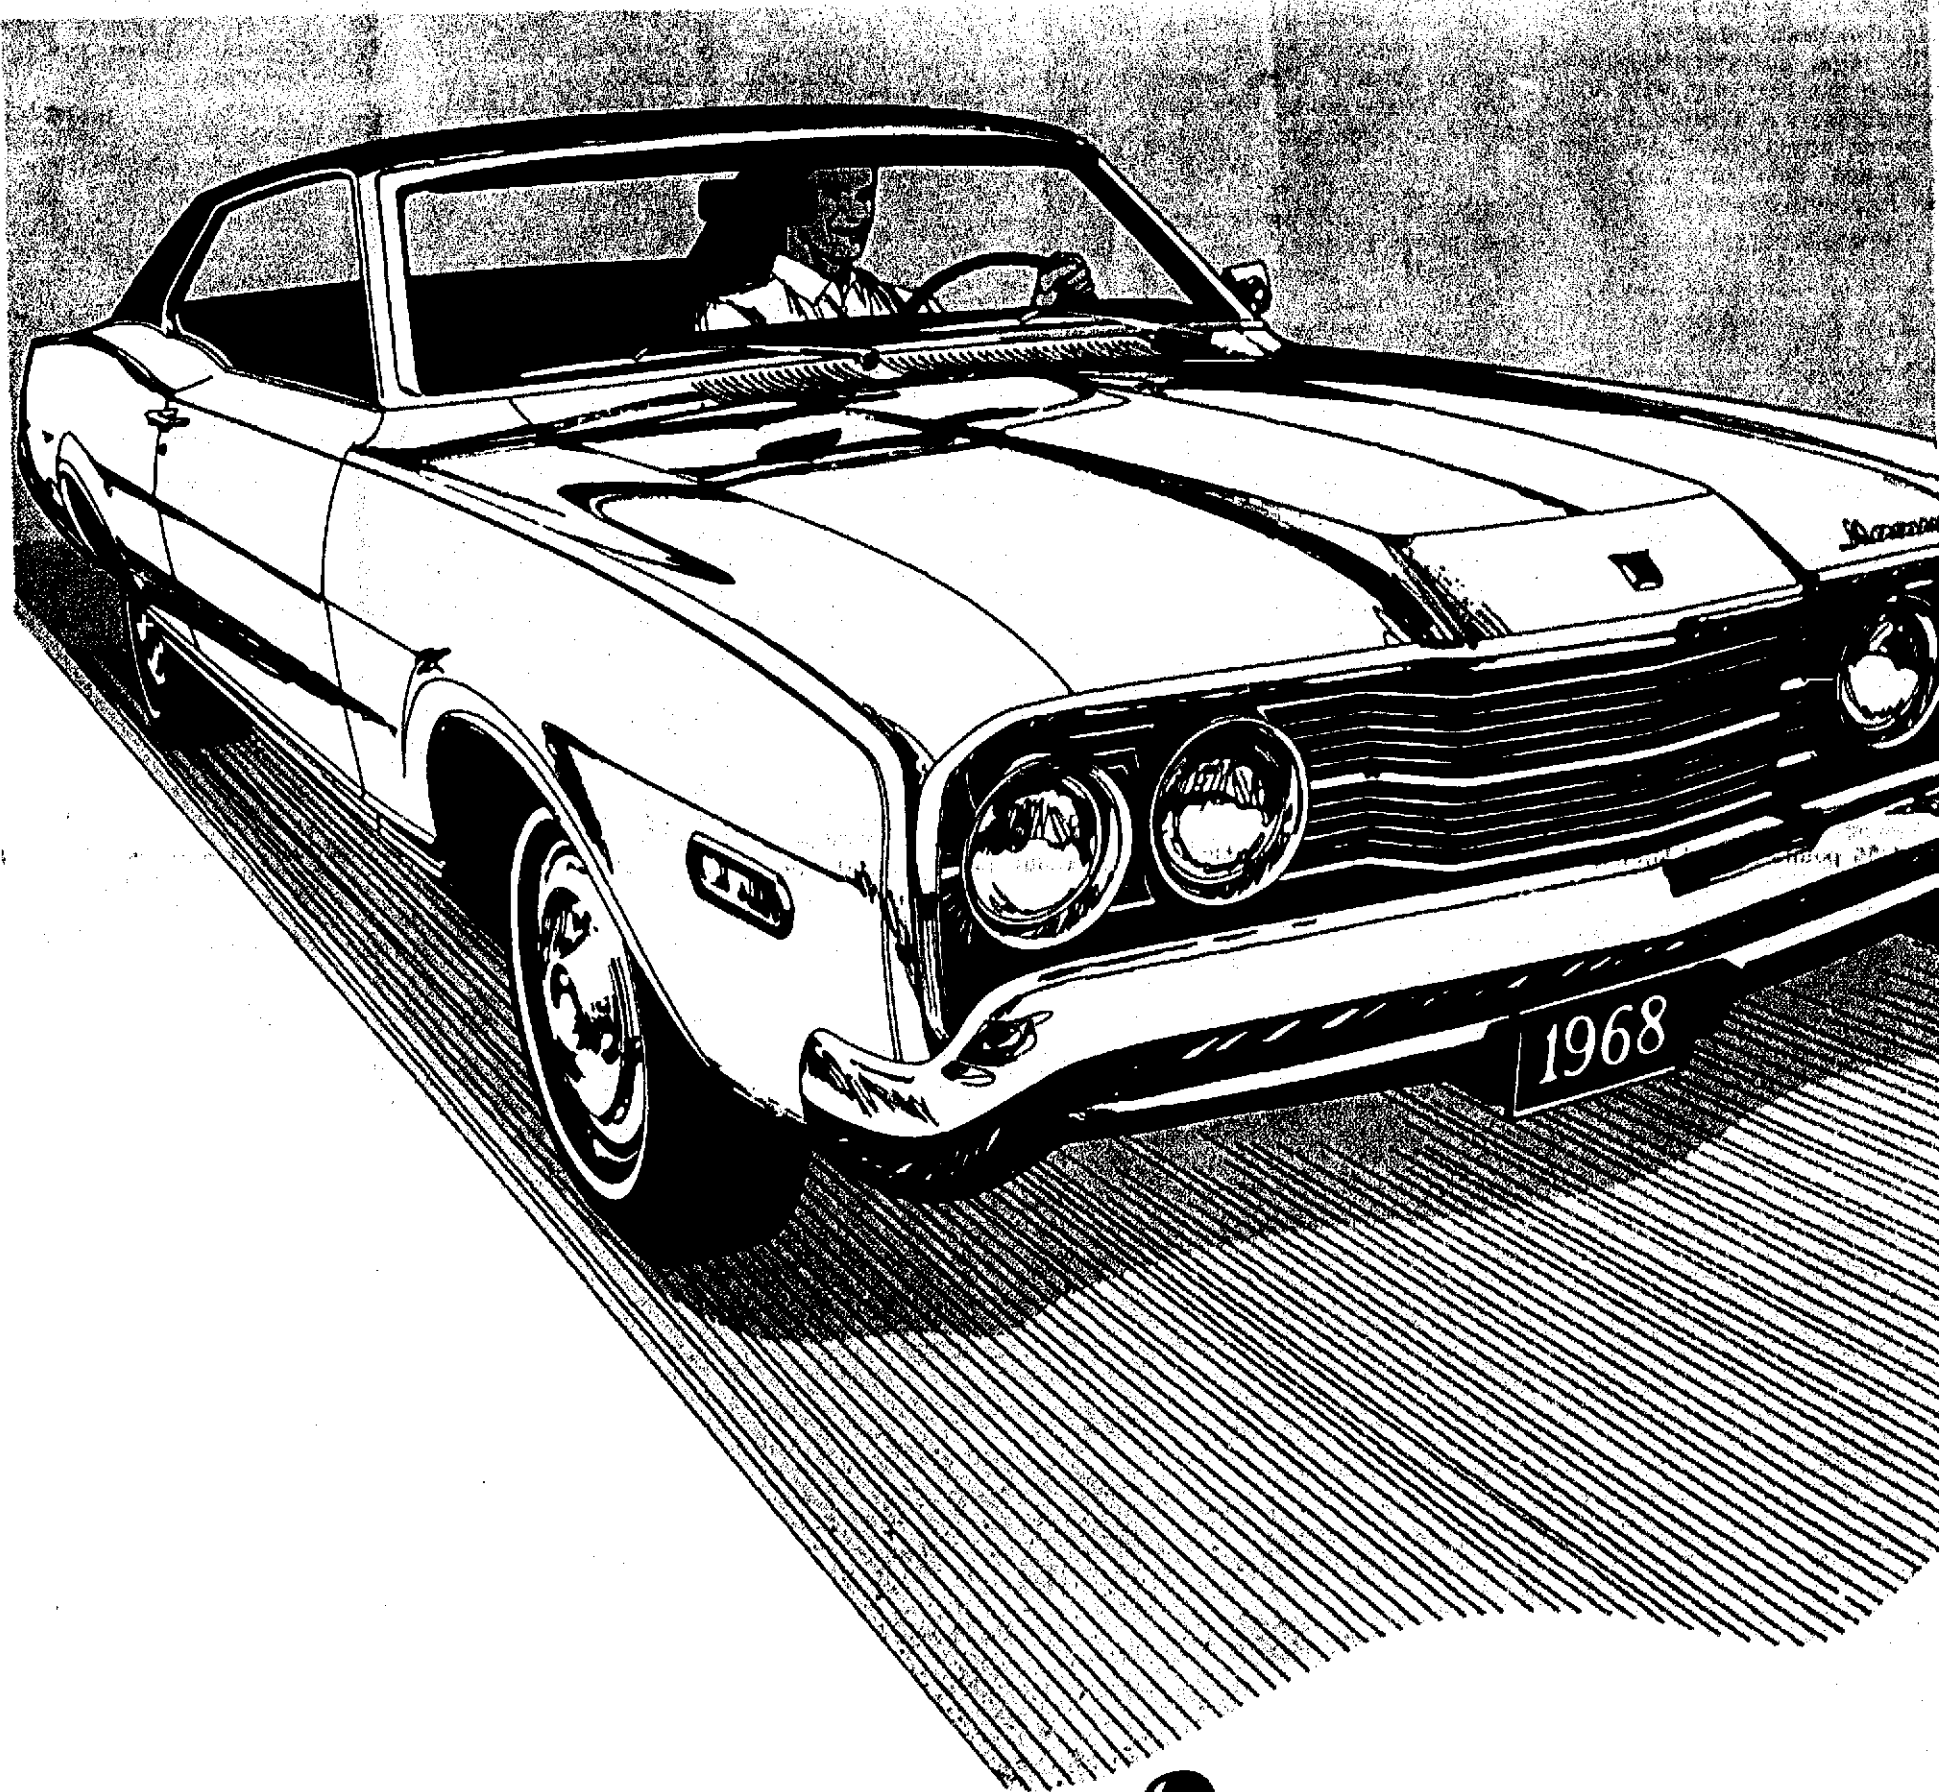

Gernreich also turned thumbs down on the 1930's look of "Bonnie and Clyde."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Trial by combat originated among Germanic tribes over 1,500 years ago as a means of ascertaining guilt or innocence, notes The World Almanac. The theory was that the victor of a "judicial combat" must be innocent because intervening Providence had caused him to prevail. Spreading throughout medieval Europe, this practice became mainly a private way of resolving affairs of honor.

DATA DISKS are 14 inches in diameter and coated with magnetic iron oxide. Six are assembled into a disk-pack to rival the more familiar tape reel. The disk-pack is "played" on a turntable that makes 2,400 revolutions a minute (72 times as fast as LP) while storing and retrieving information magnetically. Assembly is done at Honeywell's Newton, Mass., plant.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Monthly Bicillin Shots Offset Rheumatic Fever

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is meant by heart failure on the right side? Is it serious?

A—In right heart failure, the tricuspid valve is diseased. Almost always this is associated with mitral valvular disease as well. Any form of cardiac decompensation or failure is serious.

Q—I have an enlarged heart and a murmur. Can this cause dizziness, weakness, nervous tension, and headache?

A—If your enlarged heart is still functioning well, it would cause no symptoms. If it becomes decompensated, shortness of breath on exertion, easy fatigability and a doughy swelling of your ankles are the symptoms you should watch for.

Q—I am a housewife, 29. I had open heart surgery three years ago. Since then my doctor has been giving me Bicillin shots every month just in case I should get a sore throat. Wouldn't it be just as well to wait and get the penicillin when I do get a sore throat?

A—Penicillin in the form of Bicillin can be given more easily by mouth. You should certainly take some form of penicillin if you are subject to a sore throat or other streptococcal infection.

Q—My electrocardiogram showed signs of pericarditis. Is this serious? Should I be taking anything for it?

A—Pericarditis is an inflammation of the membranous sac surrounding the heart. If it is associated with fluid in the sac (pericarditis with effusion) or sticking of the heart to the wall of the sac (adhesive pericarditis), it is indeed serious. Effusion requires drainage through a hollow needle—otherwise the treatment is symptomatic (restriction of activity and relief of pain).

Q—Is it safe for someone with rheumatic heart disease to use a sauna bath?

A—In general, medical authorities do not recommend sauna baths for any purpose. Anyone who wants to use them anyway should have a physical checkup first and if he has or has ever had any disease of the heart or circulation he should forget about the sauna baths.

CHARLTON HESTON
"I enjoy my work..."

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—In his capacity as president of the Screen Actors Guild, Charlton Heston admits that he is one of the people who "blew the whistle" on the television networks for what he considers a monopoly, now that they are producing movies for theatrical release.

Later in the conversation you ask him what film he will make next, and he replies, "I'm doing one for CBS Films," smiling at the irony.

At the lift of an eyebrow he explains that, as Guild president, he discharged his duty and now the matter of whether or not a monopoly has been created is in the hands of the Justice Department. As an actor, he likes a good role.

"Some people have asked me if, should the picture be a success, I am not contributing to the monopoly. I feel if it is a success, I'll be bringing matters to a head more quickly. Should the Justice Department decide it is not a monopoly, then I've been wrong. You see how well I have worked it all out."

PIPE DREAMS may last longer with this French invention. A rubber bulb attached to the bottom of the pipe bowl fans the embers when they begin to die out.

SHOWBEAT

Debbie Slaves For Fun Flick

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Whipping a scene into shape is hard work. Especially a scene such as Debbie Reynolds was doing for "How Sweet It Is."

It was a long scene, full of talk and not much action. She was in a villa on the Riviera and Maurice Ronet, a new French import and very handsome, was playing the villa's owner. He was welcoming her in the bedroom, and giving her flowers and a skimpy bikini as glad-to-see-you presents.

Director Jerry Paris tried to juice up the scene with little bits of business and so did Debbie. They ran through it dozens of times, trying this, trying that.

Once, after a run-through, Debbie sank into a chair and sighed deeply.

"It depresses me," she said. "When a scene is slow, I die inside."

The movie won't be slow when it's finished. All hands—Paris, Debbie, her costar, James Garner—are enthusiastic about the script. It's a wild comedy and already they've shot some wild scenes, on shipboard, at the beach, on the set.

But this scene was tough. After each try, Debbie folded the bikini up and put it back in the box. To relieve the tension, she made like she was a department store clerk as she did it.

"When I worked at Penney's," she said, "we used to fold 'em in the middle like this. See? But, at Karl's (she is married to shoe magnate Harry Karl) we just dump 'em in a sack."

The flowers Ronet was supposed to give her grew limp as they rehearsed under the hot lights.

"These flowers are dead," Debbie said.

"Props," Paris called. "Go get some living flowers."

When they had rehearsed it to the point where they felt they had it, Paris called a break. Now it would take an hour or so for the crew to light the set. Meanwhile, they would think about the scene some more.

Debbie went to her dressing room—her own trailer, which she brings to every set she works on—and tried to unwind.

"It's a hard scene," she said. "And we still don't have it right. I'll have to work out the details. I was sick earlier this week—the flu—and I missed two days. That loused up the schedule and cut rehearsal time. That's why we're in this bind."

She was also troubled about a scene she was to shoot the next day—a bubble-bath scene.

"I don't know what to wear," she said. "They only want to show my back—all the way down—which is fine. But the problem is what to wear in the front so it doesn't show. I've tried everything. They say, well, the crew won't look—ha! I just don't know what to do."

(Hopefully, I will have a later report on how Debbie licked the what-to-wear-in-the-bubble-bath dilemma.)

But her immediate concern was the scene they were going to shoot in a little while. It still wasn't right and she was obviously preoccupied, thinking about it as she talked.

"Comedy is very difficult," she said. "Much more difficult than drama. In comedy, you have to be dramatic—plus you have to think funny in the back of your head all the time. You have two things to worry about."

They came to make her up and check her costume. It still wasn't exactly the way she wanted it, but she had to shoot it anyhow.

BERRY'S WORLD

Secessionists in Nigeria Hard Pressed

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer
PORT HARCOURT, Biafra (AP) — The Biafran secessionists in eastern Nigeria are fighting with their backs to the wall. Their leader, Lt. Col. C. Odu-megwu Ojukwu, is determined to fight to the finish to keep federal troops out of Biafra's heart-land.

The army of the Nigerian government in Lagos, seeking to end the eastern region's eight-month secession, has cut off Biafra from all sides, but the bearded colonel is convinced he can hold out for three or four years if necessary.

The population is mobilized for total war. As more and more factories close for lack of raw materials, the workers are absorbed by Ojukwu's militia and trained for guerrilla war.

When weapons are short, recruits use machetes or dummy rifles. Notices everywhere call for vigilance. A poster shows a steel-helmeted soldier with fixed bayonet. "This man is ready to meet the enemy. Are you?" asks the caption.

Other posters urge the 150,000 residents of Port Harcourt, Biafra's largest remaining city, to report any strange faces to the police.

Life goes on virtually as normal in the countryside. Only salt is hard to get.

Last week, three fishermen tried to smuggle in a boatload of salt from neighboring Cameroon. They were caught by a patrol boat of the blockading federal navy and summarily shot. An Irish missionary found their bodies.

Supplies come in only by charter plane. The planes, piloted by American crews, come from Lisbon and land at Port Harcourt by night. With all lights turned off. Before day-break, they must leave for fear of being bombed by the Soviet-led MIGs of the federal air force.

Federal air raids have slackened since the beginning of the year. An exception was last Thursday, when by Biafran account two MIGs repeatedly bombed and strafed a civilian hospital at Itu on the Cross River, killing four patients and wounding the Scottish physician in charge, Dr. Murray Philip. Philip had recently published a pro-Biafra article in a British magazine.

Biafran officials said numerous hospitals and schools have been bombed by the Egyptian-piloted MIGs. All schools in Biafra are closed for fear of air raids.

Biafra still has more than a score of newspapers, but they are shrinking for lack of newsprint.

The press, radio and television continuously call on Biafrans to prepare to fight to the death or be annihilated by invading Moslem troops from northern Nigeria. A photograph of a headless, armless body is displayed throughout the country to show what Christian Biafrans might expect from northern soldiers.

Biafra's most popular television comedian, Anyaogu Okonu, interrupts his routine to draw his finger across his throat from ear to ear as a warning of what will happen if the federals come—then goes back to his clowning.

There have been no telegraph, telephone or mail links with the outside world for six months.

PAM MCNEELY

Pam McNeely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McNeely, North Little Rock, and a senior at NLR High School, has been named to a 1968 all-student European tour sponsored by the Shennandoah Conservatory of Music. She will join the touring musicians June 15 for concerts in 11 countries in Europe. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. L. L. Bartee of Hope.

Opening lead—♥ Q

Freak hands lend themselves to freak action. If you are vulnerable and your non-vulnerable opponents are competing against you, your general plan should be to bid so as to play the contract at a level you can make. Thus, if you are sure of making six spades and your opponents are competing in hearts, you may want to settle for five spades as a compromise. This compromise will surely pay off if it turns out that a six spade call would merely get the opponents to seven hearts down three for minus 500 against the 680 you would score in duplicate or the 880 in rubber bridge for bidding five spades and making six.

There is another side to this coin. An expert who does not know that his side can make a slam may try to stampee his opponents into taking a phantom save against him by leaping into a slam as if he were sure of making it.

Today's hand which was played in a lunch-time office game shows a nearly even division of high cards. North and South have 21 high card points which include three of the four aces and can make a slam in spades. East and West with 19 points can make only ten tricks in hearts, but those ten tricks will allow them to escape with a 500-point loss

Pittsburgh Blast Kills Six Persons

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An explosion that rocked the business district of suburban Ingram and shook homes a half mile away left six persons dead, two missing and 17 injured.

Workers at the scene said one man was thrown 90 feet across railroad tracks. Three were hurled against an iron fence 25 feet away by the explosion Tuesday.

What had been a row of five business shops was leveled almost to the street.

The buildings exploded while a 12-man Equitable Gas Co. crew was ripping up sidewalk outside looking for a gas leak. Five of the dead were Equitable workers.

"Who knows what triggered the explosion?" said a gas company spokesman. "Actually, the real cause probably will never be known."

"The men were working on a low-pressure, four-inch main. The gas into the buildings was shut off."

A passer-by, whose car was covered with debris, said the explosion occurred just as a gas company worker started up a jackhammer.

Frank Sulzer, 23, of McKees Rocks, said: "It moved my car four or five feet sideways, then the building came down on my car. I ducked down in the seat and said a prayer. I figured that more would be coming down, and I just stayed there."

Joe Muck, a volunteer fireman who lives nearby, was one of the first to the scene. He rushed to the man who was blown across the railroad tracks.

"I wiped blood away from his eyes so he could see," said Muck.

"He kept asking me 'how did I get here... How did I get here?' I told him that's okay, we'll tell you later. I think he died in the hospital later."

If they defend at seven.

The bidding was rather normal up to North's leap to six spades. North had several reasons to make that bid. To start with, he didn't know if his partner could even make five spades. In addition he didn't know if he could set five hearts. Finally he decided that if he did leap to six, East and West would take the save at seven hearts and he was sure that he could set that contract.

East had a sound pass. He had what looked like good defense. As for West, we feel that a seven heart call should have been automatic but West just wasn't going to take a sure penalty. He passed and South raked up the slam.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

I have enjoyed many of the comforts of life, none of which I wish to esteem lightly; yet I confess I know not any joy that is so dear to me, that so fully satisfies the inmost desires of my mind, that so enlivens, refines, and elevates my whole nature as that which I derive from religion—from faith in God. May this God be thy God, thy refuge, thy comfort, as he has been mine. Lavater said it.

U.S. Steel Reports Dip in Profits

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., the biggest steel-maker, has reported a 31 per cent drop in profits in 1967 from the 1966 level.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., second-ranking producer, reports today and its results are expected to follow the U.S. Steel trend. U.S. Steel said Tuesday its earnings last year dropped to $172,499,331, or $3.19 a share, from $249,238,569, or $4.60 a share in 1966.

Sales in 1967 declined to $4,067,313,898 from $4,434,705,400 the previous year. In the 1967 fourth quarter, U.S. Steel earned $51,721,141, or $1.053,110,479. This compares with $59,850,802, or $1.11 a share, on sales of $1,076,272,487 a year earlier.

Directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share. Roger Blough, chairman, said the lower earnings reflected higher costs of employment, purchased goods and services and starting facilities.

The return on sales slipped to 4.2 per cent in 1967 from 5.6 per cent in 1966.

U.S. Steel last year produced 30,899,330 tons of raw steel against 32,768,908 tons in 1966. Shipments of finished products declined to 19,800,562 tons from 21,560,279 tons in 1966. Production of raw steel in the 1967 fourth quarter rose to 8,302,952 tons from 7,935,030 a year earlier. Shipments edged up to 5,124,346 tons from 5,106,586 tons in the 1966 fourth quarter.

Blough said that because of hedge buying against a possible industry strike in August he expected the inventory of steel in users' hands to rise from 22 million tons at the end of 1967 to 29.5 million tons by the end of July.

Clark County, Arkansas, and a resident of Hope, Arkansas for the past five years, passed away at his home, 902 South Walker Street, Wednesday morning January 31, 1968, about 6:00 O'clock, following a long illness. He was a member of the Lonoke Baptist Church here.

Survivors are: his wife, Mrs. Katie Ivory, three daughters, Mrs. Neva Carmichael and Mrs. Martha Thompson of Hope, and Mrs. Suetha Perry of Dardanelle, Arkansas; one sister, Mrs. Katie B. Walsh of Kansas City, Missouri, numerous nieces and nephews and other relatives.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced by Mitchell-Wiley Funeral Home of Arkadelphia, Arkansas.

U.S. Handling of Incident Irks Koreans

By K.C. HWANG

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea's foreign minister asserted today that more attention should be paid to the Communist attempt to assassinate President Chung Hee Park than to North Korea's seizure of the USS Pueblo. His remarks were interpreted as an expression of government displeasure with U.S. handling of the current Korean crisis.

The South Korean government will "categorically oppose" any additional U.S. moves to emphasize the Pueblo case in efforts for an over-all settlement of the Korean situation, Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah told a news conference.

Choi said his government also will object to any direct bilateral talks between the United States and the North Koreans and to any proposal to exchange the Pueblo crewmen for North Korean infiltrators.

"A basic settlement of the current crisis lies in taking firm measures to assure the security of the Republic of Korea and prevent recurrence of any provocative acts by the North Korean regime," he declared.

The ruling Democratic Republican party and the opposition Shinmin party put aside their political squabbles to provide bipartisan support for the Park government in the crisis. The National Assembly went into special session and was expected to adopt resolutions asking for decisive action against North Korea.

In Washington, the White House continued to put heavy stress on diplomatic efforts to free the Pueblo crewmen. Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said after breakfast Tuesday with President Johnson he got the impression Johnson was so hopeful of avoiding military action that there was no talk of a deadline for release of the men.

At the United Nations, a source familiar with U.S. views said he believed the United States would soon abandon its attempt through the United Nations to get the crew released. Security Council members reported no success in their efforts to break a U.S.-Soviet deadlock over an invitation to North Korea to join the council debate.

The most serious of many North Korean infiltrations in recent weeks was the invasion of Seoul Jan. 21 by a 31-man guerrilla squad under orders to kill President Park and other high officials. They were stopped half a mile from Park's residence, South Korean and American troops have so far killed 26 of the intruders and captured

Long Haired Students Join Civil Group

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) —

Boys suspended from Brien McMahon high school for letting their hair hang over their eyes, ears or collars have enlisted the aid of the American Civil Liberties Union.

Burton Weinstein, a volunteer lawyer from the Fairfield County ACLU chapter, said Tuesday he has agreed to represent in court four of the boys at first and probably more later.

Most of the 53 students suspended from school for the length of their hair defied a "cut-your-hair" order. A dozen cut their hair and returned to school Tuesday.

About 10 parents of students suspended for wearing their hair long appeared Tuesday night at a School Board meeting but were not allowed to discuss their position.

Some students picketed the school Tuesday, carrying such signs as "Does Society Hang by a Hair?" and "Jesus, Shakespeare, Washington and Lincoln wore long hair. Who should we look up to?"

The U.S. Defense Department said in Washington that the report of the death of a Pueblo crewman was unconfirmed.

There are now 40,000 motels operating in the United States, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Mrs. Autry Takes Place of Husband

BLYTHERVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. L. H. Autry of Burdette was elected Tuesday to succeed her late husband as state representative.

Mrs. Autry, a staunch Democrat, defeated Ed Allison, state chairman of the Young Republican League. Although both candidates were Independents in the special election by state law, both ran openly for their respective parties.

Allison, with the unofficial vote at 2,323-3,001, said his 44 per cent showed a substantial gain for the GOP in Mississippi County, which he said "has been dominated so long by an entrenched Democratic machine."

"The machine-controlled boxes contributed to my defeat," Allison said.

Landing Ships to Be Built by the Navy

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy plans to build nearly $1 billion worth of battleship-size amphibious assault vessels to carry Marines, helicopters and landing craft to combat areas.

The new ships, designed LHAs, would vastly streamline Marine over-the-beach and encirclement tactics by combining features of four specialized Navy vessels. They would be more than twice the length of a football field.

Industry proposals for the first of several LHAs to cost about $123 million each were submitted to the Navy late last week for evaluation, officials said Tuesday. The Navy will pick the winning design within four months, these sources said.

The fiscal 1969 defense budget unveiled Monday provides the money for one LHA, and other funds will be laid out next year for long-lead time items for three more.

The Navy hopes for four or five beyond those.

Although the exact configuration is still being ironed out, the amphibious assault ship would displace about 40,000 tons, extend about 700 feet and measure 100 feet or so across the beam — narrow enough to go through the Panama Canal.

By comparison, the battleship New Jersey, being reactivated for the Vietnam war, is 45,000 tons, 887 feet and 108 feet at the beam.

The LHA could carry at least a Marine battalion landing team of 1,800 men, their necessary supporting equipment, 30 or so helicopters, tanks, other vehicles and several landing boats.

The landing craft would be carried in a floodable well in the LHA, allowing embarking Marines to head directly from the big assault ships into coastal waters aboard fully loaded boats.

Helicopters launched from a flight deck above the well would aid encirclement tactics.

To undertake a similar operation now the Navy would use more vessels: The LPD or amphibious transport dock, the LPH helicopter carrier, the APA attack or transport and the LSD or dock landing ship.

In the running for LHA money are General Dynamic's Quincy Division, of Quincy, Mass.; Lit-

RFK Rejects Idea of Opposing LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy publicly rejects—at least for the time being—the idea of carrying his opposition to administration Vietnam policies into a head-on political battle with President Johnson.

Kennedy told newsmen Tuesday he will not run against Johnson in any Democratic presidential primaries "under any foreseeable circumstances."

This still left the way clear for the New York senator to enter the race against Johnson if the President seeks his party's renomination as expected. But Kennedy's use of the term "foreseeable circumstances" indicated he feels there's little chance events will change his course.

Some Kennedy backers have been pushing harder than ever recently for him to enter the primaries, especially since Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., — a fellow Vietnam policy critic — appears to be making little headway in his bid for the presidential nomination.

Although Kennedy would not spell out any circumstances that might cause him to change his mind, it was indicated Vietnam war developments may hold the key to his future position.

A sudden cease-fire or opening of peace talks in Vietnam, some observers have reasoned, could spell political disaster for any would-be nominee critical of Johnson's policies.

Kennedy said he would "continue to speak out on issues that affect the United States."

Meanwhile some other Senate Democrats opposed to administration war policies are conspicuously excluding from attacks on war policies a President they expect to head the Democratic ticket in November.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Iowa, said he would "continue to speak out on issues that affect the United States."

ton Industries' Advanced Marine Technology Division at Culver City, Calif., and Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., Newport News, Va.

Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has told friends his position this year when he seeks re-election is that everyone knows how he stands on Vietnam.

Fulbright said he sees no value in continuing to criticize the President's war policy on every occasion.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., similarly has toned down his criticism of the President over Vietnam although he maintains he is standing firm in his opposition to war policies.

Another war-policy critic, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., told newsmen Tuesday his basic opposition remains unchanged after a visit to Vietnam.

But Clark, who has said he'll support Johnson for re-election, said he's optimistic the administration will find a way to scale down or end the war before the election.

Subversive Board Coming Back to Life

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Subversive Activities Control Board may be coming back to life after two dormant years, nourished by a law some senators had hoped would put it out of business.

The board scheduled its first hearing in two years for Monday in New York to explore the U.S. attorney general's contention that the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America are "substantially directed, dominated and controlled by the Communist party."

The DuBois organization asked for a delay in the hearing until Feb. 26 and it's expected to be granted.

There is a 38 per cent budget boost of $117,000 for the SACB in the spending program President Johnson has sent Congress, and it carries this explanation: "Increase will permit implementation of legislation enacted on Dec. 14, 1967."

That legislation provided the five-member agency with new Communist-spotting duties to supplant functions ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

The board, 17 years old, was set up to identify and register Communists. But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in recent Senate debate on its future the agency "failed to register a single Communist in its rapid history."

The bill, empowering the board to hold hearings and declare groups to be Communist dominated or controlled, was proposed by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and sent to the Senate without hearings. Proxmire and a bloc of Senate liberals fought it for a week, then won adoption of an amendment requiring the agency to do something or expire.

It cleared Congress with a requirement that the board hold at least one hearing in the next year, and institute at least one proceeding, or face abolition.

The controversy surrounding the SACB wasn't limited to charges it didn't accomplish anything. Last year, President Johnson appointed Simon F. McHugh, husband of a former Johnson secretary, as a board member, with a $26,000 salary.

Opponents charged McHugh wasn't qualified for the job. "For the sake of the American taxpayers and for all the American people, I hope the SACB will go out of business on June 30, 1969," Proxmire said as the measure passed the Senate. He said the board has cost the taxpayers $5 million and has not accomplished a thing.

The DuBois hearing would appear to fulfill at least half the conditions for the board's continuing existence holding at least one hearing.

Wednesday, January 31, 1968

But Proxmire said "it will still totally to meet the requirement for the instituting of a proceeding," because the case was instituted in 1966.

He argued the hearing alone will not keep the board going that it must come up with something new in 1968 or expire.

But Dirksen called the DuBois case a proceeding "that can run on and on."

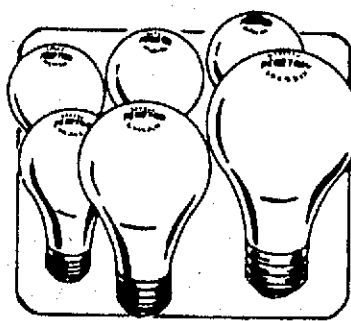

"So the board is in business," he said.

Unmarked Curbs Gambling Man Bad Guess

Since Hope citizens indicated by their vote against the bond issue proposal last Autumn that they don't give a hoot about city streets it is to be presumed they care even less about street curbs.

Nevertheless, the dark and rainy nights of the Winter season make our unmarked curbs a traffic safety hazard. Many cities paint their street curbing a light color so the edges of the roadway are visible to the night driver even in rain or fog. But Hope has a street money problem—and if we don't have funds to repair the streets it's obvious we can't afford to mark our curbs.

The public might ponder these facts when recalling its vote against the street-improvement program last Autumn. I have a feeling that eventually the public will change its mind and reverse last year's decision if and when another election puts the issue up to a vote. And if the next bond issue is twice as big, with twice the benefits, it might have a chance to win.

Reaction of local law enforcement authorities all over America is critical of last Monday's United States Supreme Court decision invalidating the law requiring gamblers to register and buy a gambling stamp.

But the police reaction is purely routine. The compulsory registration law set up a list of known gamblers and reduced the amount of investigation required by prosecutors when preparing a case. From a routine police view this was bad.

But the supreme court had a fundamental principle before it, and I don't see how it could have ruled otherwise than it did. The Fifth Amendment holds that no law may compel a person to incriminate himself—and that is precisely what the gambling law required a suspected gambler to do, convicting himself before he was either charged or tried.

But gambling is evil, you say, and should be suppressed. Obviously you are arguing that because the end is good you are justified in using any means to gain that end.

Under government by law, however, this is evil and dangerous thinking. Deny trial by constitutional methods to a gambler today, and tomorrow's victim of compulsory self-incrimination may be any one of us, for some less serious offense.

Law is a matter of procedure, not a judgment of ends—and the supreme court has acted wisely in overruling hasty and short-sighted legislation. . . . for the long-run protection of all citizens in their constitutional rights.

The Pueblo Incident off North Korea reminds us that there is no end to the evil results of a single misjudgment in foreign policy.

In the Korean war Gen. Douglas MacArthur informed Washington that Chinese planes were coming into the conflict and killing American soldiers. He asked permission to send our planes across the Yalu River and destroy the Chinese airfields from which the raiders came.

President Harry Truman listened to our State Department and replied "No."

And so the Korean war ground to a stalemate, and Korea was divided—half Communist and half free.

Having gotten away with it in Korea the enemy then staged a repeat show in Vietnam, with nearly half a million Americans engaged there.

And to cap it off, we have today's seizure of the Pueblo and a new military outbreak from North Korea.

Events have made a full circle and returned to the point of beginning—all because our amateur American statesmen made a poor guess on the Yalu River question.

CC Banquet Scheduled Thursday

The annual Hope-Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce banquet will be tomorrow night, February 1, at 7 p.m. at the coliseum.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland of Topeka, Kansas, will be guest speaker. His topic will probably be "Speak Up For America" or "Wake the Town and Tell the People."

Dr. Lester Sitzes, retiring president, will be Master of Ceremonies at the banquet. Dr. Lowell Harris will sing with Luther Holloman accompanying him at the organ.

Several local people have heard Dr. McFarland speak. Many who have not heard him in person have listened to excerpts from some of his speeches on KXAR.

Art Strech, who has only heard Dr. McFarland on tape, described him as "without a doubt the most outstanding afterdinner speaker in America today. His coming to Hope is equal to a Broadway show coming here."

Lester Sitzes, who has heard him in person, says, "He's the most dynamic and entertaining speaker on Americanism I have ever heard."

"I don't think I have ever enjoyed a speaker as much in my life," He's forceful and witty," stated Eleanor Watkins. She then added, "I recommend that anyone who possibly could attend this banquet, do so."

Tickets are on sale at both banks, the Anderson-Frazier Insurance Company, and The Chamber of Commerce office. Only a few tickets are left.

The Town and Country Restaurant will cater the banquet.

Says School Crisis Few Months Away

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Officials of public and state-supported schools told the Legislative Council Tuesday that they were only months away from a major financial crisis.

The school representatives said they were operating on budgets that are greater than the income they could expect during this fiscal year.

Clarence E. "Mike" Frost, consultant to the state Administration Department, was scheduled to appear before the council today to outline the Rockefeller administration's program to solve the problem.

The educators said conditions will be worse during the next fiscal year beginning July 1. They said the reason for the crisis is that state revenue collections are not measuring up to expectations.

Makes You Wonder If Posterity Is Really Worth the Price

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that make a modern parent wonder whether posterity is worth the price:

"Nobody, not you nor anybody else, is going to run my life for me."

"After all, I didn't ask to be born, did I?"

"If you really loved me, you wouldn't complain all the time about how I run up the telephone bill."

"I'd rather not go to the dance at all than go in a dress like that. Mother, why they haven't been wearing dresses that long since you and Dad were young—if anybody can remember that far back."

"Carol phoned from a friend's house. She says her quarterly report card is so awful that she won't come home at all unless we both promise not to bowl her out or try to restrict her."

"If you think kids are bad at that age, Jim, just wait a couple of years more. You'll find that things get a lot worse before they get any better."

"Every other kid in our class but me has a color television set. Why do I have to be the only one who has to grow up in an underprivileged home?"

Secrecy Shrouds State Probe of Skeletons Found at Prison Farm

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — State police probed in secrecy today seeking to determine if three skeletons recovered from unmarked graves were inmates buried in a paupers cemetery or victims of a vicious prison justice.

The bones were unearthed Monday from a grassy boot-trampled field and their discovery raised the question: How many more bodies might lie beneath the shallow depressions that dot these 15,270 acres of Arkansas River land?

Reuben Johnson, 59, the strapping six-foot inmate who led investigators to the graves said that years ago he helped bury about 10 or 12 convicts who were "shot with a pistol, a shotgun or just beaten to death."

Looking back on his 30 years in prison, Johnson claimed that as many as 2,000 inmates had been quietly consigned to unmarked graves.

State police Maj. Bill Streubing, who is conducting the investigation, discounted Johnson's story Tuesday. After visiting the gravesite and pouring over prison records, Streubing said he thought the graves probably were in a paupers cemetery.

"We don't know for sure, but in our own minds, we believe it is," he said.

He called off further digging until pathologists conclude tests on the bones already unearthed, and he indicated that his investigation would be conducted in secrecy even after the reports are in.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller told newsmen later in the day that he thought the information should be withheld because of the bad publicity it would bring the state.

He promised to make a "full and complete report" to the people after the investigation was complete, but said he didn't want to "wash dirty linen before the nation for weeks on end as each body is dug up."

"There might have been foul play. That area might also have been a cemetery—a paupers cemetery—for prisoners who died and had no family," the governor said. "We don't know yet. There is no evidence now to indicate that a mass search should be conducted to dig up all the bodies."

He also said, however, that he wasn't surprised the bodies had been found, and that he thought other bodies would indicate there had been foul play. He said he had heard rumors ever since coming to Arkansas in 1953 that prisoners had been killed, buried on the prison grounds and listed on the records as escapees.

Former Prison Supt. Dan D. Stephens said he was aware that there was an old prison in this house."

There is a fenced-in cemetery about two miles from the gravesites. Prison officials said prisoners were buried there when they died natural deaths and no one claimed their bodies.

Johnson claimed that all the superintendents who have served at Cummins were aware of the secret graves.

He said the men he saw buried were "shot down or beaten to death" by "guards and wardens." He said he had seen "quite a few" killed.

"They killed some white ones on Labor Day in 1940," he said. "They killed a bunch of them—I'd say about 20."

Prison records show that 36 men escaped from the prison on Sept. 2, 1940, and that one man was killed trying to escape. The records also show that 24 escapees were recaptured quickly and a prison staff member said it was possible that others were recaptured later.

Cong Assaults Aimed to Impress Natives, Force U.S. Pullback

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some U.S. military analysts say the synchronized Viet Cong assaults against Saigon and other South Vietnamese population centers aim at forcing a pull-back of American troops from the key border sector where North Vietnamese regulars have been massing.

They suggested the attacks, hitting eight widely spaced cities and towns, also were intended to impress on the South Vietnamese people that the Communist guerrillas are still to be reckoned with.

The military specialists spoke against a background of obvious

Arkansas's Body Found in California

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP) — The body of Audie Lee Fulkerson of Morrilton, Ark., who vanished in December 1964 while job-hunting in California, was found by sheriff's officers Tuesday.

Emory Eugene Byrd, 31, who was convicted last Dec. 22 of involuntary manslaughter and sentenced to one to 15 years in prison, led the officers to Fulkerson's body in a shallow grave in the Mojave Desert.

Papers found with the remains bore Fulkerson's name. Sheriff's Capt. Al Etzell of Los Angeles said "there's no doubt" it was Fulkerson.

The 38-year-old Arkansas man left with Byrd on a hunting trip Dec. 6, 1964, but Byrd returned alone. Last June, investigators said they finally had enough evidence to arrest Byrd of Quartz Hill, Calif. Byrd denied the killing but later said his pistol discharged accidentally in self-defense.

Fulkerson's widow, Walsie, and their three sons—Ronnie, 6, Tommy, 14, and Richard, 19—live at Morrilton.

Police Search the Judge Too

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Apparently no one was exempt from being searched by police before entering the courtroom for a preliminary hearing for 20 members of a militant Spanish American group.

The defendants are charged with assault and kidnap in connection with a raid by gunmen last June 5 on a rural court house in northern New Mexico.

Defense attorney Joseph Roberts complained Tuesday about being searched and successfully sought an order by District Court Judge Joe Angel that attorneys not be searched outside the courtroom.

Angel told Roberts, "Don't feel too badly. The officers even searched the judge."

U.S. Gold Reserves Dip Sharply

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's gold supply—feeling the effects of the European gold rush—dropped by $900 million in December, sharpest monthly dive in history, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

It brought the total gold loss for 1967 to $1.17 billion, the largest in two years and double the loss for 1966.

The nation's gold stock is now at its lowest ebb in 30 years.

Officials attributed the 1967 decline to speculative gold buying which followed Britain's November devaluation of the pound and also to tensions and eventual war in the Middle East last spring.

Had it not been for these two occurrences, officials said, the United States would have enjoyed last year the first increase in its gold stock in a decade.

By the end of December the SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon rested comfortably Tuesday in a Salem hospital.

There was no change in his physical condition since he entered the hospital Monday with virus pneumonia.

But a spokesman for the governor said there will be a physical change in his room.

The governor, who is 6 feet, 5 inches tall, was given a 5-foot, 6-inch bed. The hospital has agreed to find him a 7-foot bed as soon as possible.

Continued Aid to Parochial Students Asked

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell wants the Supreme Court to keep a lid on taxpayer suits that would block federal aid to parochial school children.

Brownell spoke for 15 New Yorkers whose children get remedial education training in Jewish, Lutheran, Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox schools.

The lid was put on by the Supreme Court in 1923. It decided payment of taxes alone does not give a citizen the right to sue to block large government programs.

The court will re-examine that ruling later this term.

If it reverses itself, Brownell said in a friend-of-court brief filed Tuesday, some children in poor neighborhoods could be excluded from the benefits of welfare legislation "by reason of their religious beliefs or affiliations."

Military officers say the Viet Cong assault, sprung by suicide squads, appears part of the Communist winter-spring offensive, which also has featured North Vietnamese thrusts and probes from North Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos. The overall plan is regarded by some observers as a Communist bid to score territorial and battlefield gains in advance of possible peace talks.

1st Assembly Meet Draws Large Crowd

"There are twenty times as many reverences in the Bible to the second coming of Jesus Christ than to his first coming." So stated the Rev. Lindell Ballinger in his message last night at First Assembly of God.

The Rev. Mr. Ballinger stated further that he believed the second coming of Jesus is very near.

Rev. Willhite, Pastor of the church reports that in spite of the heavy down-pour of rain a large number were present at the service.

Emphasis for tonight's service is on the Family, with special recognition of the largest family present.

Services are announced to continue through February the eleventh, at 7:30, except Saturday.

Would Delay Discussion of Finances

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A consultant to the state Administration Department indicated today that the administration wanted to delay considering financial matters in the special legislative session until a study of the overall money structure is completed.

Clarence E. "Mike" Frost, the consultant, told the Arkansas Legislative Council that the financial needs presented earlier in the week by educational institutions and the state penitentiary system indicated that the overall study was needed.

Frost said the suggestion was that the legislature go ahead and convene in special session on Monday, but take up only nonfinancial matters.

He said the administration probably would then ask for a 60-to-90-day recess during which time comprehensive studies of all agencies sharing funds from the general revenue budget account would be made.

Frost said the lawmakers would then have better knowledge on which to attempt to resolve the financial problems confronting the state.

Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman, chairman of the council, said he saw no use in the legislature appropriating funds that don't exist.

Millions of dollars of damage were done to U.S. aircraft and other facilities in the shelling of nine American air bases, including Bien Hoa, just north of Saigon, the biggest American fighter base in South Vietnam, and the Marine fighter base at Chu Lai, below Da Nang.

At nightfall, U.S. Ambassador Ellisworth Bunker reported: "As far as I know, Saigon is secure." But gunfire and helicopters firing overhead could still be heard, and two battalions of South Vietnamese marines and paratroopers were battling Viet Cong troops at a golf club near the Tan Son Nhut Air Base.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, said he believed the attacks Tuesday and today were a "diversionary effort to take attention away from the northern part of the country." U.S. commanders believe the North Vietnamese are massing there for the biggest campaign of the war, with their target U.S. Marines just below the demilitarized zone.

Westmoreland said allied forces killed about 700 enemy soldiers in the Communist raids Tuesday—the start of the Lunar New Year—and "my guess is that the enemy death toll today will be comparable to Tuesday's."

Striking while South Vietnamese forces were celebrating the Tet, the lunar new year festival which is their biggest holiday, Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces on Tuesday invaded Da Nang, the country's
